

Vale Dr Jenny Nilon

It is with deep regret and profound sadness that we announce the passing of our dear friend and colleague, Dr Jenny Nilon. Jenny passed away peacefully on the evening of Sunday the 3rd of May 2020 surrounded by her beloved boys and husband. This passing ends Jens' two and a half year battle with breast cancer and associated side-effects.

Dr Jen, as she was known, made an amazing contribution to the local Albany Creek & surrounding communities as a trusted general practitioner for nearly 30 years. Jen was a compassionate and hardworking member of the Everyday Medical team and has helped countless people and their families during their own times of need.

She was extremely dedicated to her patients and developed deep friendships with many of them. She will be remembered by all as a loyal friend. We thank every one of her patients and friends that have expressed their well wishes and generous support in various ways over this time.

Jen loved her family and cherished the times they spent hiking, camping and exploring remote parts of the world. At home, she enjoyed craft and the relaxation of an evening campfire in the garden. The Everyday Medical team wish Jen's family our heartfelt condolences.

Amongst her many strengths, we know Jen was an amazing cook and her brownie recipe is one of our favourites. A truly delicious comfort food.

During these interesting times that we are in, there are limited adventures we can have and it's hard to get out and about with others, but if you wish to pay your respects and reflect on Dr Jen, make a batch of her brownies and have a relaxing cup of tea with your family.

Her recipe is attached. Enjoy.
